

Microbiology adjunct search SP2023

Manor College is seeking a part time (adjunct) instructor for the spring 2023 semester to teach introductory microbiology. The course is an introductory course for allied health majors (pre nursing, dental hygiene) and includes both a lab and lecture component. There will be 2 lecture and 2 laboratory sections.

Required Qualifications: A Bachelor's degree in the area of interest or a closely related field is required. Previous teaching at the community college level is a plus.

Preferred Qualification: A Master's degree in the area of interest or a closely related field.

To Apply: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three references with contact information to Julie Senecoff, pre-nursing program director. Jsenecoff@manor.edu.

EOE

Manor College is committed to the principle of equal educational and employment opportunities for all people and embraces diversity. Furthermore the College does not discriminate as Manor College is an equal opportunity employer. The College does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, childbirth and related medical conditions), disability, genetics, citizenship status, military service, or any other status protected by law, in matters pertaining to employment in its educational programs or employment opportunities. Manor College seeks candidates who understand, respect and can contribute to the College's mission and values. It is important and necessary that candidates who accept employment with the College respect the Mission Statement of the College.